

Deadline

- Grade contracts based on final exam scores should be submitted by email to the TA by midnight, Jan. 13. If you choose to buy an official product, your email must specify the product number (A, B, C, etc.). If you form a grade contract with your classmate, the email must carefully states the names of both parties as well as the terms of the trade/contract. Both parties must send such an email to the TA.
- In the case of an option contract, the expiration time is at midnight, Jan. 14. This means the buyer must inform the TA if he/she decides to exercise the option before this time. If the buyer fails to inform the TA before expiration, it will be assumed that he/she does not intend to exercise the option. For example, if you have purchased official product B, then you must inform the TA before this expiration time if you would like to use the right to buy A.
- Homework allowance trading and use should be submitted by email to the TA by midnight, Jan. 14. You should state in the email which homework you would like to use your allowance on. If you do an allowance trade with your classmate, both parties must send an email to the TA and state the price at which the allowance is traded.

Rules

- All contracts and trades must use J-points as currency.
- For official grade contracts:
 - Each person can only buy one of A, B, C, D.
 - Each person can only buy one of E, F.
 - Each person can only buy one of G, H.
- There is no limit to the number of private grade contracts or homework allowance trades you can enter into.